

BSU approval is considered

The Black Students Union (BSU) Bylaws came up before Student Affairs Council last Tuesday night and will be considered for approval at the next SAC meeting.

An attempt to override SAC operational codes in order to approve the bylaws before the quarter break was made, but the motion did not receive the necessary two-thirds vote required for passage.

According to ASI Vice President Tony Turkovich, all groups must channel their bylaws through Codes and Bylaws committee. The committee goes over the document and presents it to SAC with a recommendation that it be passed. Voting takes place at the first meeting after the bylaws are presented to SAC.

Richard Jenkins, president of the BSU, said he would like SAC to consider the bylaws and vote on them at the same meeting, because there would be no more meeting this quarter, and the BSU has several plans they would like to carry out during the early part of next quarter. He added that if the meeting immediately preceding the Thanksgiving break had not been cancelled, the bylaws would have been presented and could have been voted upon at Tuesday night's meeting.

Several SAC members said they felt they would need the time before the next meeting to consider the bylaws, and the motion was defeated. Discussion of several points in the bylaws followed, and Jenkins was called upon to answer questions.

Membership in the BSU, said Jenkins, is open to all black students enrolled at this school, and other students who are considered to be in alliance with black ideology as determined by active members. He said the term "black ideology" refers to the sections of the bylaws concerning the purpose and objectives of the BSU.

These include promoting brotherhood among black students and uniting black students into an organization in order to gain strength and solidarity to alleviate the struggles of black people in this school, community, state, and nation.

The BSU also seeks to "aid black students in any educational endeavor; provide a channel for handling grievances; deal with the needs of the black students that are not being met by the college; develop political and educational awareness in the black students; protect the interests of those black students who do not have a voice and to see that these students are made aware of their rights; take action on issues and programs that affect the black student; and promote a spirit of cooperation with organizations sympathetic with our aims both on campus and in the community."

Another point Turkovich said SAC members were concerned about was that the bylaws state "non-members may be charged admission to meetings." According to Turkovich, no other campus group has this clause in their bylaws.

Jenkins said the BSU was not attempting to exclude anyone from attending the meetings, but was concerned that non-members would cause the meeting place to become overcrowded to such a point that some members would not be able to attend the meeting.

Final action of the bylaws is scheduled to take place at the first SAC meeting of Winter Quarter, Jan. 12, 1971.

Editor attends GE conference

Mustang-Daily Editor-in-Chief Ian McCabe, is one of 40 college and university newspaper editors selected to attend a seminar sponsored by the General Electric Company on Dec. 6, 7 and 8.

Among the topics to be discussed at the seminar which will be held at the company's Research and Development Center in Schenectady, New York, are "Technology and Society," "The Individual and the Organization," and "Industry and the Environment."

According to J.M. Bertotti, Manager Education Relations for General Electric, "Many people have expressed concern about areas of misunderstanding between industry and students. We believe that a useful step in reducing the understanding gap is to increase the amount of factual information which we have about each other. Hence, the two primary objectives of the conference are to provide General Electric people with firsthand information about the real concerns of youth and provide collegiate editors with insights into the activities of one industrial firm as they relate to today's major societal problems."

The 40 editors will participate in group discussions throughout the three-day affair. Norman Collins, editor of The Saturday Review, will speak to the group during the conference portion of the program.

McCabe stated that he hopes to pose questions to the members of the General Electric research staff that society seems to be so concerned about in recent years.

He also stated that "I find it interesting that a company of the magnitude of General Electric would even care to find out what the people are thinking about problems in these areas."

Traffic diverted in area of new College Union

Starting Winter Quarter, the Inner Perimeter Road will be closed except to authorized persons. The 12 parking spaces inside the Inner Perimeter will be sold as reserved spaces for faculty and staff. The rate for this reserved parking is $6 per month, or $18 per quarter. Priority in reservation of the spaces was given to faculty and staff working in the two Science Buildings. There are four spaces remaining which will be allotted on a first come, first served basis. Permits will be issued by the Cashier in the Administration Building.

An electronically controlled gate will govern the entry to the road. The gate will be located at the South end of parking lot E-11, which is West of the Erhart Agriculture Building. Traffic will be one-way, turning left after passing through the gate. One-way traffic is necessitated by the narrowness of the Inner Perimeter Road in the area of the new College Union. Exits will be made by coming around to the gate via Campus Way which runs between the Science Building and the rear of Engineering East.

The Security Office will provide gate cards, which may be signed out for a maximum of three hours, to those employees who will require entry to this area for loading and unloading instructional materials.

Reclassification date

Registrants wishing to drop deferments and be reclassified into Class 1-A status to take advantage of a year-end policy announced last month by the Selective Service System, have been given until midnight, Dec. 31, 1970, to file for the reclassification.

Such requests must be received by local boards by that date or carry a postmark dated Dec. 31, 1970 or earlier, according to Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, national director of the Selective Service.

These instructions alter previous policy which stated that the application had to be in the hands of local boards prior to a December board meeting.

According to Tarr, those with high draft numbers in the 1970 lottery will profit by this new system. He said that should a man hold a number higher than that reached by his local board and number 196 has been set as the highest number which any local board can reach-it is to his advantage to voluntarily give up his deferment for a 1-A classification. In these cases, he will move to a lower draft priority group on Jan. 1, 1971 with other members of the 1970 first priority group with unreach numbers.

He continued, saying that a young man holding a lottery number over their local board "high" (196) could effectively limit their vulnerability to the draft by being classified into 1-A by the year's end.

"The law allows young men to elect whether they will apply for a deferment and those young men granted deferments should be able to drop them if they desire," said Tarr.

Tarr said that the new policy was needed because various boards throughout the country were scheduling their last meetings of the year at different times. By defining a specific cutoff date, the new policy allows all registrants an equal amount of time to take advantage of the reclassification offer.

The types of deferments affected by the memorandum are high school and college, occupational, agricultural, paternity and hardship.

The 1-Y classification, unacceptable for military service except in national emergency, is not affected by this new policy. Men classified 1-Y are not able to voluntarily drop this classification.

Tarr stated that all deferments are issued for limited periods of time, generally for one year, and that it is the responsibility of the registrants to submit documentation for an extension of his deferment. In the absence of documentation, the new Local Board Memorandum instructs local boards to promptly reclassify registrants into 1-A.

This means that registrants wishing to continue their deferments should submit the supporting documentation to their local boards.

Dean Chandler receives honor

Dean of Students Everett M. Chandler will receive the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in higher education and education from Michigan State University Saturday.

Chandler will not be able to leave his duties on this campus to attend the ceremony in East Lansing, Michigan. He completed requirements for the degree during a leave of absence earlier this year.

A member of the college administrative faculty since 1961, Chandler earned his bachelor's degree at the University of California in Berkeley, and was a personnel and management specialist with the State Personnel Board and the State Department of Finance before assuming his post at this college.

Chandler's doctoral thesis is titled A Short-Term Orientation Program for Freshmen: Contrast Between Participants and Non-Participants.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Vietnam flood victims aided

Editor:

The Vietnamese students in the San Luis Obispo area are planning fund raising activities in an effort to help the war-and-flood victims in Vietnam.

Rain and flooding have washed out home and property of about 200,000 Vietnamese in six provinces of central Vietnam. The northern cultural capital of Hue suffered the worse catastrophe since the Tet attack. According to the Los Angeles Times hundreds were killed and 250,000 evacuated; half of them have returned to their homes but the rest are still homeless. Latest news from Vietnam says that the flood water is still rising in some parts of Hue.

This disaster has been overshadowed by the Pakistan Cyclone and by the war. But with the war going on this makes it hard for the Vietnamese. The Vietnamese Association at Cal Poly would like to ask the college and community to participate in this fund raising drive. It has started with the Christmas Card sale. The Cards, designed by an architectural engineering major, depict some characteristics of Christmas and New Years in Vietnam. Card can be obtained from any Vietnamese student or by calling 544-1804.

Food drive for holiday needy

A canned food drive for the Salvation Army is planned for Saturday, Dec. 5 from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. in the San Luis Obispo area. The drive is sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Food stuff will be picked up door to door and then transported to the Salvation Army for distribution to the needy of SLO. It will be distributed in the form of food baskets for Christmas.

The collection is under the auspices of the eight fraternities of this college. Uncollected food can be turned in at the Salvation Army on the corner of Chorro and Lacey Streets.

Art exhibitions and movie shows will be held next quarter for public participation.

Theistic fossil?

Editor:

As a student of the Bible and also of experimental Christianity (as opposed to theoretical Christianity), I have to comment that Dr. Robert Rodin indeed is holding on to some "fossils" as the picture in Wednesday's Mustang Daily indicates; however, the "fossils" in my estimation are his pseudo-scientific and basically fundamentalist beliefs concerning "God," "Jesus Christ," "fellowship with God," "many of the world's troubles today," etc.

Regardless of all the mental acrobatics which have gone into the various theistic theories of evolution, one cannot help (even with a cursory examination of the Genesis account and of evolutionary theory based upon the fossil record) from coming away with anything but gross discrepancies between the two. At the risk of having this letter sound like a personal attack, I have to say that it seems amazing to me that in 1970 a Doctor of Botany, teaching at Cal Poly (and not at "Prairie Bible Institute") could commit such intellectual suicide perhaps merely for the emotional security which such "petrified" beliefs afford.

Jerry D. Smith

"More Lies?"

Editor:

Apparently there has been some misunderstanding. 1) I wrote a letter to Mustang last week but someone either rewrote it or you printed a different letter and assigned my name to it. 2) The typesetter accidentally (?) destroyed the meaning in the key paragraph and 3) the editor's note was littered with empty and false allegations.

In my original letter I suggested Dean Chandler and Bob Timone were lying when they stated they in "no way" prevented a Tenants Association meeting, they in fact physically barred us from one room and moments later ordered us out of another. If the language is too heavy for this paper then I am convinced it is a puppet of the administration—free press? Afraid of a libel suit? Great, lay it on me—I would welcome some response from our irresponsible administration. Students, it's about time you took notice of what is happening around you, and to you. The Tenants Association cannot do anything for you without some power; for us to gain some power means the money people must lose some. It will be a struggle, the administration has chosen sides with the establishment and land owners. The question is, will you allow the administration to be effective with lies and manipulation of the press? If this letter is printed I'll be surprised.

I invite the editor, Timone and Chandler to a public-private debate on these issues if they somehow have the nerve to dispute the truth.

Pete Evans

Decorators for float to meet

If you are planning to help decorate the Rose Parade float, here are the directions to the Rosemont Pavilion in Pasadena:

Take the Pasadena Freeway until you hit the Orange Grove off-ramp. From the Orange Grove off-ramp drive to Rosemont and you will be in sight of the Rose Bowl—which is directly across the street from the Rosemont Pavilion.

Cal Poly's entry in the parade will be moved to the Rosemont Pavilion either Dec. 22 or 23, according to the Float Committee.

Housing can be arranged for the float workers. For further information, call Brock Thoman at 544-6082.

SST reversal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In a stunning reversal of sentiment, the Senate voted 53 to 41 Thursday to halt development of the giant supersonic transport plane SST, cornerstone of the United States' bid to maintain its superiority in world aviation.

Opponents mounting their most determined campaign yet succeeded in gaining approval of a proposal to deny President Nixon's request for a $200 million installment for development and flight testing of two SST prototypes.

Nineteen senators who voted for continued development a year ago switched to opposition this time. The wide margin was not expected by even the most hopeful of SST opponents.

Sweet girl gets, gives MECHA will host program

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A 19-year-old girl surprised President Nixon at a White House ceremony Thursday by accepting a medal for service to her fellow man and then questioning his sincerity because of continued U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Deborah Jean Sweet of Madison, Wis., whose sandy hair fell to her shoulders and who wore a ankle-length calico dress, was the last of four young persons to receive a Young American Medal from the President. She accepted it, shook hands and said quietly: "I find it very hard to believe in your sincerity in giving an award for service until you get us out of the war."

Nixon seemed taken aback momentarily. "Well," he replied, "we're doing the best we can."

The President, who had posed separately with each winner and his family and congressman, declined a photographers' request that he pose for a group picture at the end of the ceremony. He said he was late for another appointment.

Miss Sweet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Caruso and a student at Valparaiso University, Indiana, was honored for her work in race relations and for organizing a 30-mile march by 3,000 high school students to raise money to feed poor children.

The medal, awarded annually for bravery and service, was established by Congress 20 years ago. Winners nominated by state governors were chosen this year by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, Solicitor General Erwin Griswold and Jack C. Landau, former information director of the Justice Department.

Nixon praised the four winners as examples of the majority of young people whose selfless service to country and fellow man receives little attention these days.

One medal was awarded posthumously to John N. Caruso Jr. 91 John's Island, S.C., a 12-year-old who drowned June 2.

NIXON'S ORDER*'Political asylum—maybe'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon ordered all federal agencies Thursday never to "arbitrarily or summarily" turn a would-be defector back to foreign control until determining whether his request for asylum was legitimate.

Nixon acted after the State Department filed a formal protest with Russia over an incident Nov. 23 off Martha's Vineyard, Mass., and the Soviet Embassy said the resulting controversy "cannot be viewed otherwise than another hostile anti-Soviet propaganda effort."

The State Department announced that it protested to Yury M. Vorontsov, the Soviet embassy's No. 2 man, that the Russian seaman's cause "should have been handled through the U.S. judicial system" to determine if he was a legitimate political refugee, or a common thief as the Soviet's claim.

Richard T. Davies, assistant secretary of state for European affairs, told Vorontsov Wednesday that the seizure aboard the Coast Guard cutter Vigilant was "very regrettable," but Vorontsov, replied that as far as the Soviets were concerned the matter was closed.

As for the President's action, the White House said he ordered "immediate remedial action to ensure that there will never be a recurrence of a shocking incident of this kind."

"In accordance with American tradition and practice, foreign nationals who request political asylum from the United States government due to persecution or fear of persecution should be given a full opportunity to have their request considered on its merits," Nixon's order said.

"Under no circumstances should the person seeking asylum be arbitrarily or summarily returned to foreign jurisdiction or control pending determination of his status," his new instructions continued. "To the extent circumstances permit," the President added, "persons seeking asylum should be given every possible care and protection."

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee had planned to open hearings into the attempted defection Thursday with testimony from William Macomber Jr., deputy undersecretary of state for administration, but he cancelled his appearance. Subcommittee chairman Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, accused Nixon of putting "a freeze on his appearance" and said if he was not available by Monday, he would subpoena him "and see if we can drag him here bodily."

The Soviet sailor, a Lithuanian identified as Simas Kudirka, about 35, jumped aboard the cutter when it and a Soviet fishing vessel were tied together off Martha's Vineyard for a U.S.-Soviet conference on Russian fishing operations off the New England coast.

The 33 first-year students, who represent 10 nations in Africa and Southeast Asia, will begin their nine-day tour Dec. 11. Arrangements for the tour have been made by Joseph M. Earley, assistant AID co-ordinator at this campus.

Points visited will include the Farmers Home Administration Office, Fresno; Millerton Lake State Recreation Area; the State Department of Fish and Game, Fresno; Selma Trailer Company, Selma; and Sun-Maid Raisin Growers of California, Selma.

Other stops scheduled are Valley Nitrogen central office in Fresno; the University of California Lincove Citrus Field Station; Kearney Horticultural Field Station, Parlier; the Lindsay-Strathmore Irrigation District; Tenneco (formerly Kern County Land Co.), Bakersfield; and the Rudnick Beef and Pork Packing Plant, Bakersfield.

Cagers open new season tonight

Coach Neale Stoner takes the wraps off his 1970-71 Mustang basketball squad this weekend when they make their debut against the powerful Cal State Hayward Pioneers, in the first annual Aggie Invitational Tournament.

The Mustangs will meet the Pioneers at 9 o'clock on Friday night as the second matchup in the two day tournament. An earlier contest will be played between the top seed of the tournament, St. Mary's and Northwest Nazarene at 7 p.m.

The losers in the first night's competition will meet at 7 p.m. on Saturday to decide the consolation title while the winners will meet at 9 p.m. for the championship.

"We hope the tournament will grow into one of the outstanding College Division tourneys on the West Coast. Our plans," said Stoner, "are to continue the meet as a four-team affair next year. If it is successful financially, we will consider going to an eight-team tournament in future years."

Stoner indicated that he would go with a trio of sophomores and a pair of seniors in the game with Hayward. Named to start for the Mustangs at forward were last year's varsity scoring leader with a 15-point average, 6'4" Dennis d'Autremont, along with last year's freshman scoring leader, with a 23.5 average, 6'3" Leonard Lowmes.

Sophomore transfer from Harbor JC Robert Jennings, 6'6", will start at center. Quarterbacking the team from his guard berth will be 5'11" letterman Lewis Jackson. His running mate will be sophomore sensation Billy Jackson, who is 6'5". Billy was the No. two scorer on the 1969-70 frosh squad which had a 20-4 mark. He had an average of 19.8 points a game on that team. Billy also scored 28 points last Monday night in the annual varsity-frosh game.

Third year head coach at Hayward, Herb Graw claims, "We think we have a good team this year—and we're going to start finding out right away. Certainly, we think we are quite a bit better than the team that lost to the Mustangs (97-72) last year."

The Pioneers, co-favorites in the Far Western Conference, are led by all-league guard Tom Scott, 6'1", the author of a 16.2 scoring average. Rich Freedman, the other starting guard at 6'0", was honorable mention all-conference last season. Front liners Bill Frank, 6'6", Phil Hubbard, 6'4", and Pat Reilly, 6'7", all saw service as reserves last year. "We got some good games out of each season," Graw added.

Stoner feels the Mustangs are going to have to improve in three areas if they are going to win tonight. "Number one, we have to put out more effort, both mentally and preparation wise. This week we've been concentrating on both of these.

"Secondly we are going to be starting three sophomores, and it's important that we play a consistent ballgame. We're going to have to be consistent in our offensive attack and even more so on defense. Last of all we had insufficient poise in the game against the freshmen. With three sophomores starting it's going to be tough, but we hope this area gets better."

When asked if the Mustangs would be running much, Stoner replied, "We have been working on the fast break quite a bit and we'll be using it against Hayward. We feel we are strong in rebounding and this will help us get our break going. We also plan to use our pressure defense."

Stoner expects a "tough game" from the Pioneers. "They return quite a few starters from last year's team. We expect them to have a tough front line. Lew Jackson will also have his hands full guarding their all-conference guard, Tom Scott."

Gridders finish no. 20 in poll

With Mustang football Coach Joe Harper there is only one meaningful statistic and that is found in the won-lost record. He has preached often to his players on this subject so it wasn't surprising that he is proud of his team's final 8-8 record for 1970.

The 8-8 record is the school's best football record since 1966 when the mark was 9-1. The UPI poll reflected this when they ended up ranking the Mustangs number 20 for their final season.

Currently, our engineers and scientists are exploring the ever-broadening avenues of energy conversion for every environment... all opening up new avenues of exploration in every field of aerospace, marine and industrial power application. The technical staff working on these programs, backed by Management's determination to provide the best and most advanced facilities and scientific apparatus, has already given the Company a firm foothold in the current land, sea, air and space programs so vital to our country's future.

We select our engineers and scientists carefully. Motivate them well. Give them the equipment and facilities only a leader can provide. Offer them company-paid, graduate-education opportunities. Encourage them to push into fields that have not been explored before. Keep them reaching for a little bit more responsibility than they can manage. Reward them well when they do manage it.

Your degree can be a B.S., M.S., or Ph.D. in:

- MECHANICAL ENGINEERING
- AERONAUTICAL ENGINEERING
- ENGINEERING SCIENCE
- ENGINEERING MECHANICS

If your degree is in another field, consult your college placement officer—or write Mr. Len Black, Engineering Department, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, East Hartford, Connecticut 06108.
